WE'RE FOR AMERICAS AMERICANS

WHATEVER hope there is for Free silver lies in international action; what ever hope there is for internationa action lies in the Republican party.

THE commission of Japanese states men, after 18 months of study of the question in all its phases, decided in favor of the adoption of the gold standard for Japan. They found that under the declining value of silver the cost of living had, since 1873, increased 62 per cent. while wages had increased but 33 per cent.

It was 18 months from the inaugura tion of President CLEVELAND until hi Free-trade Congress had put its Wilson Law upon the statute books. There reason to believe that the Dingley Law will be upon the statute books within 18 weeks of the inauguration WILLIAM MCKINLEY. But until tha happens people have no right to expect resumption of activity in manufactur

THE Japanese statesmen must have been laughing in their sleeves at the United States during the late campaign Japan was being held up as the mos striking example of prosperity among silver-using Nations and at the same time these statesmen knew that Japan was going to adopt the gold standard, ecause Free-silver was destroying he prosperity.

No PARTY ever gained anything by violating its pledges. The Republican party in 1896 pledged itself to a Protec tive Tariff and another effort to bring about international bimetallism. The people who are complaining that these pledges are being carried out ought to realize that a failure to keep them would not be only bad faith but bad policy as well.

THE New York Mail and Express says that ex-Postmaster General Wilson's hatred for a Tariff Bill which propose to place an extra $300,000,000 per year in the pockets of American workingmen presents the full measure of his contempt for labor interests. Anything which seeks to raise the scale of wages in this country is invariably regarded by the Free-trade theorists as a scheme

WHEN men upon fuller information change their mind upon a subject it is evidence that they are honest. The Chattanooga Times says John G. Car-LISLE opposed the dropping of the silver dollar from the coinage in 1873. He very strenuously opposed the demonetization of silver, a year later; and he zation of silver, a year later; and he had streumously opposed free coinage at 16 to 1 five years later, when the Bland-Allison Bill was before Congress, though the voted to demonetize silver. Careful the constraint of the const he voted to demonetize sliver. CanLiele, when he knew little on the subject, was a bimetallist of the Cernuschi sechool. Since he has mastered the whole history, policy and science of money, he knows that bimetallism never did and never can exist. If some of his critics knew a little about the question they would not be criticising him.
At any rate, the citation of his speeches of 1890-91,

OUR WASHINGTON MAN.

THE LEDGER'S SPECIAL LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

Washington, May 7th, 1897. Increased harmony in Republican ranks and increased dissensions among Demo crats are the leading features of this week's developments in Washington. The Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee, who have been la oriously engaged upon the Tariff Bill have exercised such good judgment and act in shaping the bill that there is rea son to believe that every Republican vote and the vote of every man who in past years co-operated with the party will be for the bill, and this insures its early passage and enactment as a law. While this drift toward harmony is clearly ap-parent among the Republicans, the mad rush in the direction of party dissensions is even more apparent among the Demo-crats. Half of the members of that party in the House have chosen to follow the leadership of that most erratic and extreme of the Populist leaders, Jerry Simpson, while the other half have fallen into line behind Congressman Bailey thus absolutely dividing in two equal factions the Democratic party in the House of Representatives. When it is remembered that there is still a third faction of the party in the Cleveland element, and even a fourth in that wing of the party which is now supporting Protection, it will be seen that the divisions are such as to leave the Democratic party in a very much distracted condition, while the Republicans are not only thoroughly harmonious, but bringing back into their own ranks, on the Tariff question, those who temporarily alienated themselves on currency issues.

THE DIVIDED DEMOCRACY. The important feature of the week was view of the fact that all the Democrats of the Cleveland Administration in the House belong to that wing of the Democracy which supported the Bryan ticket in 1986. This makes it apparent in ticket in 1986. This makes it apparent that even the Bryan wing of the party is States Senate. The Tariff Bill, reported that even the Bryan wing of the party is paign of 1896.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The Tariff Bill has been completed, so Senate will provide, and which will greater a relates to the Senate Pinance Comittee, and the farmer. It is believed the mittee, and is now rendy for consideration by the Senate. How long it will be concluded to the first and second class will be restored by the Senate concludes will be restored by the Senate concludes the conclude the senate concludes t lar as relates to the Senate Finance Committee, and is now ready for consideration by the Senate. How long it will be before that body cannot of course be foretold, but the outlook for a reasonable degree of speed in its consideration appears to be good, and there is good eason to believe that it will be upon the statute books by the end of the fiscal year. Members of both parties are re-cognizing the fact that nothing so disturbs the business conditions of the country, both among the manufacturers and others, as the pendency of a Tariff measure of any sort, because of the fact that busi ness contracts and undertakings canno be entered upon without definite knowl edge as to what the prices on important articles or the rates of duty will be articles or the rates of duty will be.

These facts are leading men, irrespective of party, to a desire for prompt action since they know that a business revival cannot be expected by anybody until the Tariff can be put into operation and the immense stock of foreign goods and the immense stock of foreign goods now coming into the country disposed of and the market opened to our own man-ufacturers. CHERINO NEWS FOR FARMERS. The Department of Agriculture is re-ceiving very graitfying reports from the farming computity. The continuation

Upon this motion one-half of the Demo-crats voted with Balley after he had made a strong appeal to the Democrats the experiments which are so be made in in the House to cease quarrelling among all parts of the country in the production themselves, while the other half voted themserves, while the other half voted of our own sugar, and it is apparent the with Simpson. It thus appears that the thermal geomemulty is not only feeling. Democratic party in the middle upon the question it is mind with cheerful thoughts and pros of further cooperation with the Popu less. This is especially interesting in tant even the Bryan wing of the party is States Senate. The Tariff Bill, reported spill in the middle. When it is taken from the Finance Committee of that body into consideration that the gold Demo-crais are still maintaining their organization of the still maintaining their organization of the still report of the still repo now favoring Protection and even voting Hawaiian sugar from duties, thus re Democratic party is more hopelessly divided today even than it was in the campaign of 1989.
